WITH HEATON NORRIS AND REDDISH.

STOCKPORT, a municipal and parliamentary and county borough, a market and union town in Lancashire and Cheshire, is distant from London 182½ miles, Manchester 5½ south-east, Birmingham 77½, Bolton 16½, Blackpool 57½, Burnley 34½, Bury 15½, Chester 46½ north-east, Crewe 25½ north-east, Derby 63½, Gainsborough 74½, Huddersfield 26½, Lancaster 57, Leeds 43½, Liverpool 37 east, Leicester 85½, Lincoln 84½, Macclesfield 11½ north, Preston 37½, Rochdale 14½, St. Helens 25, Sandbach 21½ north-east, Sheffield 41½, Stafford 48½, Stalybridge 7½ south-west, Southport 43½, Warrington 23½ east, Walsall 79½, Wolverhampton 63½. It is in the Altrincham division of the county of Chester, Macclesfield hundred, rural deanery of Stockport, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester.

The municipal and parliamentary limits were formerly co-extensive, the latter comprise Edgeley and Portwood in Brinnington township, part of Cheadle Bulkeley township, part of Cheadle Moseley township, Stockport township, part of Heaton Norris township in Lancashire, but the municipal now includes Reddish. These, except Reddish, were constituted the civil parish of Stockport by an Order (confirmed by the Local Government Board on the 29th October, 1894) of a Joint Committee of the County Councils of Lancashire and Cheshire, and the Council of the County Borough of Stockport. Since the "Reform Act, 1832" (2 and 3 William IV. c. 45), the borough has sent two members to Parliament.

Under the "Local Government Act, 1888" (51 and 52 Victoria, c. 41), Stockport has been declared, for certain purposes, a county borough.

Under the "Municipal Corporations Act, 1835" (5 and 6 William IV. c. 76), the borough was originally divided into six wards, but on June 23rd, 1894, it was re-arranged into fourteen wards. By the "Stockport Borough Extension Act, 1901," the township of Reddish was included in the borough, which is now divided into 16 wards, the Corporation consisting of 16 aldermen and 48 councillors.

The borough has a commission of the peace and a police force.

The gas works, in Wellington road north, Heaton Norris, are the property of the Corporation; water is supplied by the Corporation.

The town stands on the river Mersey, here formed by the junction of the rivers Goyte and Tame, and is most irregularly built, being in some parts precipitous, with an ascent from the north; and around this acclivity on the south bank of the river the houses rise in successive tiers from the base to the summit. Stockport has communication with all parts by the London and North Western and North Staffordshire railways, with stations at Edgeley and Heaton Norris, and by the Cheshire Lines Committees' railways, which have a joint station at Tiviot Dale on the Lancashire side; another line, forming a junction with the preceding railway at Brinnington, passes through Reddish Vale and Gorton, and joins the main line of the Great Central (late M. S. & L.) railway at Ashbury junction; and in addition a branch line, about a mile in length, joining the Cheshire Lines Committees' system at Bredbury, affords direct communication from Stockport to London and the South of England.

The magnificent viaduct of the London and North Western railway, which literally passes over the town, has an extreme length of 1,780 feet, comprising 22 semi-circular arches, each 63 feet span, carrying four lines of rails, at a height from the bed of the river of 108 feet, and was erected at a cost of about £75,000. Tramways are also laid from the town to Manchester.

The Midland Railway Company, opened in May, 1900, a line from New Mills, in Derbyshire, to Cheadle Heath.

The river is crossed by a fine bridge of eleven arches, which also carries the Wellington road across the valley, nine of the arches being on the Cheshire and two on the Lancashire side; it was opened, with the road, in 1826, the whole being completed at an expense of £40,000.

St. Peter's Bridge, over Little Underbank, built in 1863, at a cost of £8,000, and connecting St. Peter'sgate with the Market place, is an iron structure 210 feet in length.

The church of St. Mary the Virgin, formerly All Saints (the mother church), an edifice of stone in the Early English style, was rebuilt (with the exception of the chancel) in 1820, and consists of chancel, clerestoried nave of five bays, aisles, north and south porches, and a lofty embattled western tower, with four pinnacles, containing a clock and 10 bells: the stained east window is a good example of work of the 14th century: the west window and five others are stained, and include a memorial window to the late Louis John Jennings esq. cometime M.P. for Stockport, d. 1893: the chancel, dating from about 1290, is singularly beautiful in design and retains three sedilia and a double piscina: the church was restored in 1882 at a cost of £4,500, and the chancel in 1891 at a cost of £1,000, both under the direction of Mr. J. S. Crowther, architect: there are about 1,200 sittings. The register, which has been well preserved, dates from the year 1584. HEATON CHAPEL is about a mile north from Heaton Norris, with a station on the London and North Western railway, and was formed into an ecclesiastical parish May 29, 1839, from the civil parish of Manchester, and is in the rural deanery of Ardwick, and archdeaconry and diocese of Manchester. The church of St. Thomas, erected in 1765, is a plain structure of brick and plaster, partly in the Gothic style of the 14th century, and consists of chancel, nave, transepts, aisles, north porch and a wooden turret at the west end containing one bell: the east window and some others are stained: the remaining windows contain a complete collection of the arms of all the English and Welsh sees: at the west end is a brass tablet erected to commemorate the seven years' wardenship (1874-81) of J. T. Hope and T. Beaumont, by whose efforts the church was extensively repaired during that period, at a cost of over £2,000. On the south side is a marble monument, erected in 1850 to William Travis, for more than 40 years master of Heaton Norris school, who died 6th Nov. 1843; and on the north side another to the Rev. Dudley Jackson B.C.L. 36 years rector of the parish, d. 27 Dec. 1879: the church affords 906 sittings, of which 250 are free. The register of baptisms dates from 1765, of marriages from 1838, and of burials from 1767; they are in fair condition. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £500, with residence, in the gift of the Dean and Chapter of Manchester, and held since 1900 by the Rev. William Henry Brayshaw M.A. of St. John's College, Cambridge. A lending and reference library of 800 volumes, formerly attached to the church, was transferred in 1875 to the Sunday school and is open on Sundays only from 3 to 4 p.m. The area is 729 acres; the population in 1871 was 1,742; in 1881, 3,060 and in 1891, 2,269.

St. Thomas' National School (mixed), built in 1867 & rebuilt in 1891 for 480 children; average attendance, 227; Albert Hindley, master

STOCKPORT ETHELLS is a township and small village, three-quarters of a mile from Cheadle stations on the London and North Western and Cheshire Lines Committees railways, and 4½ west-south-west from Stockport, in the Altrincham division of the county, union, county court district and petty sessional division of Stockport. Gatley, the most populous portion, is the name given to an ecclesiastical parish formed 30th June, 1882, from St. Thomas's, Stockport, and consists of the whole of the township of Stockport Etchells, in the rural deanery of Stockport, archdeaconry of Macclesfield and diocese of Chester. The church of St. James the Apostle, erected in 1881, is an edifice of red brick, consisting of chancel, nave, south transept, and south-west saddle-back tower containing one tubular bell; the base of the tower forms a porch: there are several stained windows and 250 sittings. The register dates from the year 1877. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £170, with residence, in the gift of the rector of St. Thomas's, Stockport, and held since 1888 by the Rev. John Bruster, of the University of Durham. There are Congregational chapels at Gatley and Long Lane, and a Primitive Methodist chapel at Gatley. The Manchester Royal Lunatic Hospital, situated here, was erected in 1848 at a cost of £25,000, and enlarged in 1885, when a ball room, officers' quarters and store rooms were added; it was further enlarged in 1897, and in 1901 another branch was erected for 60 more patients at a cost of £16,500: it stands on an estate of 103 acres, lying contiguous to the road from Wilmslow to Manchester, and about 100 feet above the Manchester level: the building, which consists of a central block with wings, has a south-east aspect: there is a small chapel within the grounds seating 190, and eleven villas for the reception of 116 patients: the country around is flat, but pretty well wooded, and very extensive and fine views are obtained from some of the windows, especially of the Derbyshire hills and in the direction of Woodhead: George William Mould M.R.C.S. Eng. medical superintendent. Thomas Egerton Tatton esq. J.P. of Wythenshawe Hall, who is lord of the manor, and Robert Bamford-Hesketh, of Gwyrch Castle, Abergele, are the chief landowners. The soil is sand, clay and gravel; subsoil, clay. The chief crops are wheat, oats, potatoes and turnips. The area is 1,572 acres; rateable value, £12,059; the population in 1871 was 977, in 1881, 1,369, in 1891, 1,444, including 99 officers and inmates in the Lunatic Hospital, and in 1901 was 5,270.

Outwood is the name given to a few houses standing on the site of a former wood.
